INTRODUCTION

The National Library of Medicine selects journals for Index Medicus with the advice and guidance of a group advisors that includes physicians, scientists, medical librarians,and editors of a number of American medical journals. Technical support for the review of specific publications is drawn from additional specialists in all areas of biomedicine. The advisors have the continuing, difficult task of evaluating old and new journals for indexing in MEDLARS* (Medical Literature Analysis and Retrieval System) to ensure that they satisfy the requirements for quality, coverage, comprehensiveness, and scope for which the Library has been striving in its indexes for over 100 years.

The Library indexes the periodical literature that has been judged most useful to Index Medicus users. It is not possible to include every journal that might contain useful articles and more journals are recommended for inclusion than can actually be indexed. An effort is made to maintain a reasonable balance of subject matter. The inclusion of a journal should not be construed as indicating that it is considered superior to one that is not indexed.

The 2,742 journals being indexed for Index Medicus as of January 1986 are listed in four sections:

(1) Alphabetic listing by abbreviated title, followed by full title;
(2) Alphabetic listing by full title, followed by abbreviated title;
(3) Alphabetic listing by subject field; and
(4) Alphabetic listing by country or origin.

FILING ORDER

Entries in the title abbreviation section are filed letter by letter. Full title entries are filed according to the alphabetic sequence of the keywords in the titles. Initial articles, conjunctions and prepositions are ignored. Numbers file after letters. Titles that are identical are arranged in order of place of publication which follows each title in parentheses; e.g. Cancer Letters (Amsterdam).

* * *

The symbol "s" is used before the titles of those journals which are indexed selectively, i.e., indexed only for articles relating to the field of biomedicine. The symbol * identifies journal titles which are indexed in Abridged Index Medicus.

ABBREVIATIONS OF JOURNAL TITLES

Beginning in 1971, the journal title abbreviations used in the List of Journals Indexed in Index Medicus were formulated according to the rules of the American National Standard for the Abbreviation of Titles of Periodicals.[1] The National Library of Medicine now follows the International Standard ISO-4-1972: Documentation-International Code for the Abbreviation of Titles of Periodicals,[2] which is an adaptation of the American Standard and nearly identical to it.

CITY OF PUBLICATION

City of publication is based on the location of the following, in order of choice: (1) major publisher; (2) minor publisher with distinctive imprint; (3) official sponsoring body (society, academy, institution, drug company, government agency, etc.); (4) editorial office of the official sponsoring body; (5) business office of the sponsoring body; (6) printer.

The spelling of the city of publication is taken from an issue of the journal itself and consequently may differ from title to title. For example, English language journals published in Copenhagen will usually have Copenhagen as a city of publication. Danish language journals may have Kobenhavn.

NLM CALL NUMBER

The National Library of Medicine call number is the shelving location for a serial in the NLM collection. In the List of Journals Indexed in Index Medicus, the NLM call number appears at the end of each entry.

NLM TITLE CONTROL NUMBER

The NLM title control number, consisting of nine alphanumeric characters, serves as NLM's unique identifier for each title. It is also used by medical libraries in reporting serials holdings data to SERHOLD, NLM's database of machine-readable holdings statements for serial titles held by U.S. biomedical libraries. The title control number appears opposite the NLM call number.

INTERNATIONAL STANDARD SERIAL NUMBER

The International Standard Serial Number (ISSN) is a serial identifier consisting of a unique seven digit number and an eighth check digit. The ISSN uniquely identifies a serial title, regardless of language and is therefore useful in international information exchange and in machine storage of serials data. The ISSN is assigned to a serial title by the appropriate national center of the International Serials Data System (ISDS). The National Serials Data Program (NSDP) of the Library of Congress is the United States Center of the ISDS. The ISSN is irrevocably linked to the key title of the serial. If the title of a continuing serial changes, a new ISSN must be assigned to the new title. In the List of Journals Indexed in Index Medicus, the number, if known, is preceded by the abbreviation ISSN.

SUBJECT HEADINGS

All subject headings used are from the most recent edition of NLM's controlled vocabulary, Medical Subject Headings (MeSH). As of 1986, the MeSH headings used are more specific, patterned after the descriptors assigned by the NLM catalogers when the journals were cataloged. For example, titles on ALCOHOLISM have been separated from those under SUBSTANCE DEPENDENCE; those on FAMILY PLANNING from REPRODUCTION. Also, in accordance with cataloging practice, the appropriate medical specialty has been used as a descriptor whenever possible instead of an organ or disease. That is, DERMATOLOGY is used as a subject heading for JOURNAL OF CUTANEOUS PATHOLOGY rather than SKIN or SKIN DISEASES. As in the past, when a specific heading would apply to only one or two titles, a more general heading was assigned.

* * *

When requesting serial interlibrary loans from the National Library of Medicine, include the NLM call number (or On Order or In Process notation) and the NLM control number. When reporting errors or questioning entries, please indicate the NLM control numbers for the titles involved.

The List of Journals Indexed in Index Medicus is produced from SERLINE (SERials-on-LINE), the National Library of Medicine's online serials database. Questions or comments on the information in this publication should be directed to: Head, Serial Records Section, Technical Services Division, National Library of Medicine, Bethesda, Maryland 20894.
